

WERC July 23 Newsletter

Welcome to the July WERC newsletter. The busy year continues with competitions, clinics and camps. This is an opportunity to share highlights and flag some of the opportunities coming up for you to participate in and hopefully get the very most out of your membership. In addition we have our regular member profile and Ask Elsa slots. Don't forget to get tickets for the Awards night in October. It's a great evening and a chance to share our successes and meet members out of the saddle!

Regional Success

Radfords at Llynamench kindly hosted the Area 20 Horse Trials on 28th May the club was represented by

90cm

Lizzy Bailey – Tinker Town

Emily Dove – Gaelly De L'Hallai

80cm

Emily Dove – Betty

70cm

Sienna Dove – Charlie Farlie

And supported by our volunteers Sally Kimber, Heather Parr and Anneliese Popovic who enjoyed their day as secretaries supervised efficiently by Carole, having been promoted from Car park attendees at a previous event!!

😊 Thank you ladies for your support.

The club then sent a contingent over into North Wales for the Summer Show jumping qualifier on 3rd June.

Represented by

Jessica Clarke – Benuchel Boheddiyes

Jo Neesam – Rosie

Jose Krumpen – Tyrones Silver Summer

Who came away with a team 2nd

Congratulations to Emily Dove - Gaelly De L'Hallai individual 3rd in the 90cm

Well done every one.

A new show took place on July 2nd in memory of WERC member Gill Rawlings who loved Express Eventing.

The event was sponsored by her very close friend Jess Clarke, Blazehill Equestrian and Mad Mucker. It was a lovely day enjoyed by all and a special and appropriate way to remember Gill.

Ask Elsa — an opportunity for our equine friends to reach out and get some expert help from our very own agony equine!

Dear Elsa , I am a horse, so why is my owner putting me in this stupid fancy dress outfit. I look like a Zebra crossed with a Fly and quite frankly it's embarrassing! This happens whenever the weather gets warm. I am confused please send help!!

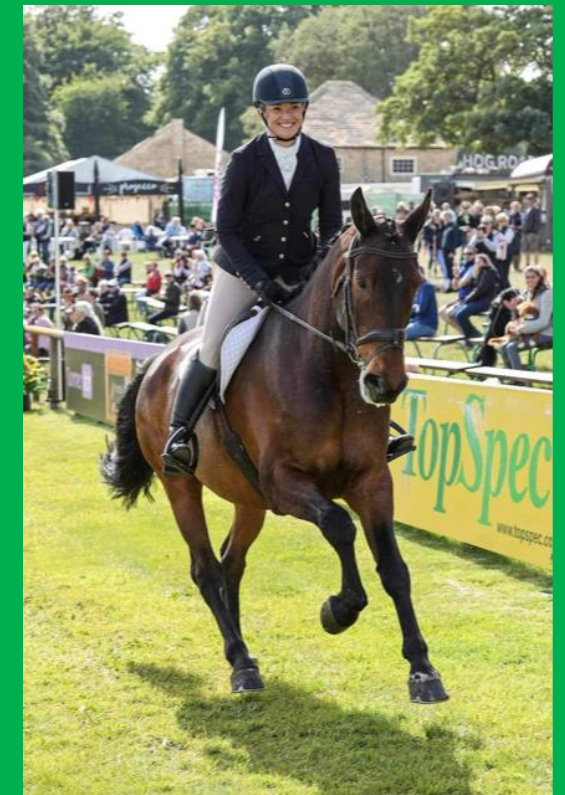

Dear confused Its that time of year again where your owner tries to protect you from those horrible biting insects. We make the mistake of thinking humans are quite intelligent and I can't work out whether this is really the best they can come up with or whether it's just their weird sense of humour. I think you have two choices: embrace the embarrassment and get less bites, or my preferred option is to get your field mate to rip it off you, Humans aren't always good at picking up on our natural subtleties so direct action is the only way. Your owner will soon get the message

Member Profile

Amy Bevan and Otto (Anna's Delight)

Amy and her 10 year old home bred gelding Otto have been having an amazing year. Representing the club at the BRC Intermediate Championships and the Novice Championships earlier this year. They then started their eventing season with a 4th place at Llanymynech as preparation for their appearance at the British Eventing NAF Bramham National Championships on 6th June 2023. Amy and Otto posted a 31,8 double clear to take reserve national champions. The champion posted a 31.7 - how close was that ?? The club are super proud of this combination who are now preparing for the British Dressage Area festivals later this month. Good luck Amy.
